Old school made new. Many prints outs, possibly from footage, moved around my hand. Like seeing the methods used – eg. the wire armature.

TAKE AWAY – opening sequence is what I was starting the other day. Complete it.

Can print from a drawing all of the frames and film them. Can I film Home this way? On the page.

This wonderful exhibition explores the Melbourne epicurean landscape through the eyes of a small and rapacious duck. Audiences will be amused and delighted as they explore the “Cat Rabbit and I had a big exhibition at Craft Victoria for the Craft Cubed Festival. We made all the sets and characters for a new picture book and film and displayed them as an exploded story in miniature sculpture, animation projection and giant food installation.” <https://www.craft.org.au/in-the-soup>

Passenger

I learnt a lot from being crew on Passenger but did not see any pre production work. From working in their studio on In the Soup I became aware that a lot of their works emerged as they went – responses to problems as they arose, but again I was in at the end of production. Contact Isobel about her methods! <https://www.isobelandvan.com/passenger/>
