

A Wooden Music Box

- A simple music box as a gift from my friends 5 years before, which plays the Japanese songs, Castle in the sky. Around 4cm height and 6.5cm length and 6cm width, light wood color with brass components inside.
- Touched very hard and cold, but it is not much weight when you put on your hand. I guess that is mixed compressed wood rather than log.
- There is a lot of dust on the box top, Since its always putted on the table's corner without many attention. While it seems like new one when it is cleared by wipes.
- Works well, the switch is underneath and it will play a light and smooth music when you turn that on.
- I remember that is very popular during 2008-2016 as a gift, you can see it in many market on my hometown.
- I would like to take a video of that for my friends.
