In this week's related work post, I have been focusing on the UI design series created by Carlhauser.

Carlhauser is a German designer who is specialised in UI design, motion and FUI. His work has covered home electronic devices, mobile applications, website, portable devices and more.

By taking a simplified approach of UI design, Carlhauser has presented the possibilities of the futuristic interface through a variety of platforms.

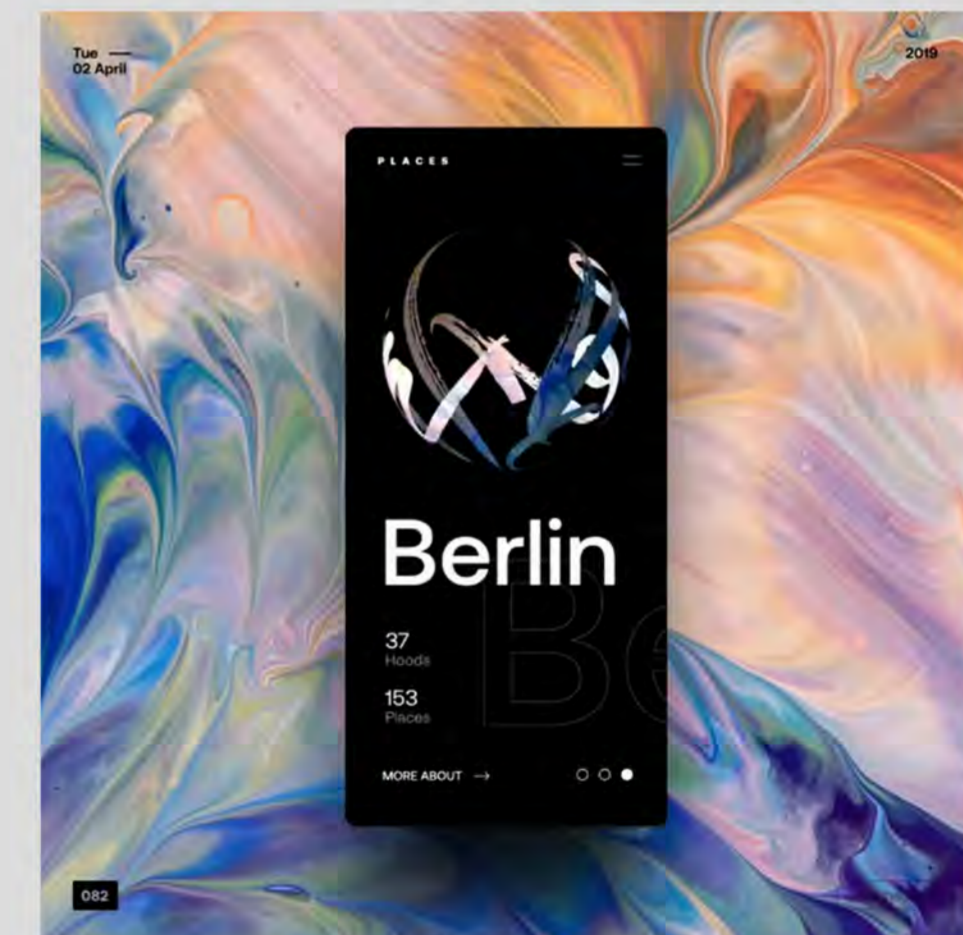

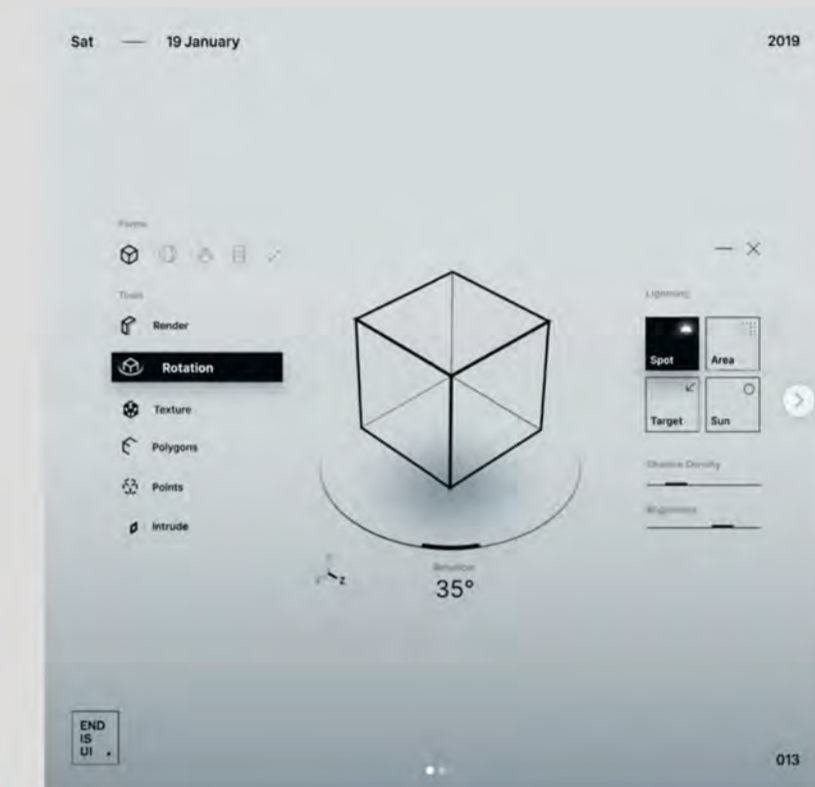

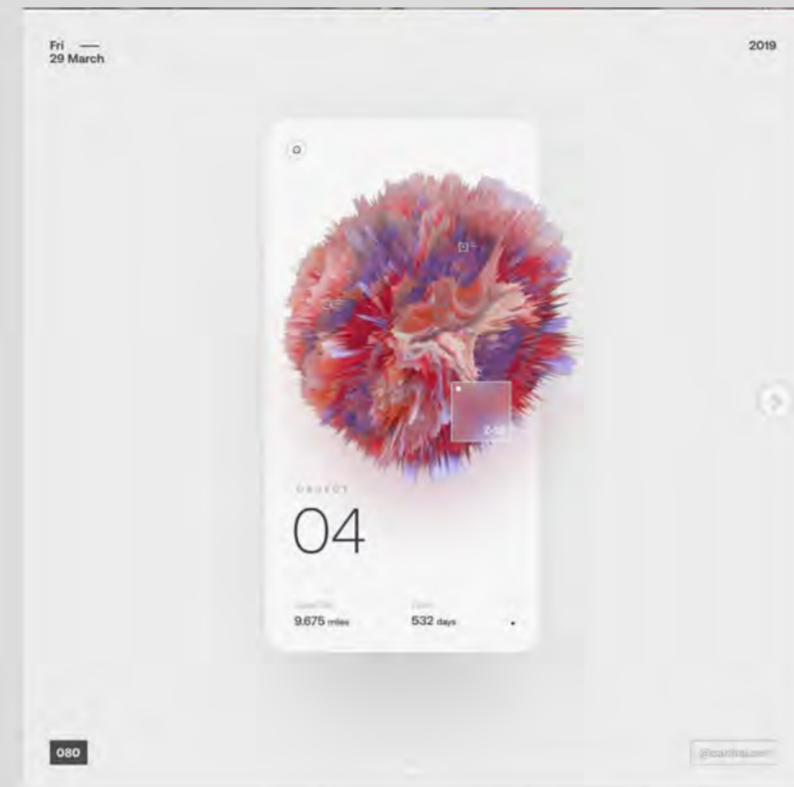

I am most impressed by his design using simple colours with contrast, creating the atmosphere without distracting or overwhelming the audience.

Carlhauser's design has covered both 2D and 3D area, giving the industry a fresh method of UI presentation and product engagement.
