

CPS_wk1_Observation S3903751_Wicce-Otter,Cougar

In response to this week's activity of observation, i stood watching and listening to my coffee machine for an uncomfortably long time and took some audio files and images with my iphone12 pro

By doing this, I started to 'hear' the machine talk. I suspect it was my boredom that activated my imagination rather than the machine talking. :)

This week's introduction to the course CPS I did not research any other works in context

listening to the coffee machine
i am more nervous
it will run out of = crack + burn.

I don't smell — too distracted by the lights take forever to turn off.

STILL.
I STAND → WATCH.

It is watching me.

Me: Am i grateful  for your coffee making prowess?

OK, yeah.

I hear a whisper:
do i realize Chinese factory workers sleep under their desks to make this machine for you

GULP GULP GULP

the

 is over the lights go

no longer into

hmmmm
