

He is a short story I snapped this morning thar I captured around my island home. Went outbound to capture environment audio and visual data that I thought I could use in localised version of the Rime the Ancient Mariner (my proposed project)

My home. with her new artefact.