

Re-iteration of studio 3 concept

Acts highlighted in red and bold

Content of the scene in black

Shot type and camera angles in blue

Act 1

A bird looking inside the shop

Back shot of the bird looking inside

A watchmaker's shop where he is working on a watch that's almost ready

Point of view of the watch; eyes of the watchmaker, bird visible from inside

Focus on his tools and eyes working tirelessly only

Watch almost ready in the shop, the watchmaker does the final setting of the watch-sounds like tick

And then beautiful music plays; watchmaker gets back; keeps tools on the table

Watchmaker and bird visible from inside the shop

-----title-----

The bird enjoys the music and is outside the shop and dances to the music of the watch

Front shot on the street

Watch is placed on a brand new decorated platter with a ribbon,

Front and top shot inside the shop

Someone comes and grabs it (music stops as the person shuts the watch off) as he grabs it

Front shot

Music shuts off; bird is shocked and turns

Bird's over the shoulder shot, bird looks inside the shop

Exchange of money and the watch

Front shot and top view of the table as exchange happens

Then again front shot of the watch going in dark

Dip to black watch is in the same position

Act 2

Scene of a birthday party opens-the same hand places the watch in the exact same position

A child's hand comes and opens it, watch plays music a lil, bird lands on the window

Child hand shuts it off bird is sad

Top angled shot

Inside point of view of the watch shutting off; bird becomes sad

Dip

Watch placed on the same position, by someone with other gifts, groom's hand opens it, music plays, bride's hand shuts it off-watch falls off a lil from its stand

Front and side angled shot

Point of view of the watch, bird is on the branch

Bird just becomes sad

Dip

Grad ceremony, bird walking on the table, opens the watch with its beak, a hand comes, shuts the watch; watch falls more and signals the bird the bird to shoo away

Dip

Fast sad background music (point of view of the bird)

Then picnic

Then christmas

Then Anniversary

Camera pans only switching between panning of the scene, the bird's sad face, and constant shutting of the watch from the side/inside of the watch

Dramatic shots – the whole scene and all shots revolving around the watch and various noises coming of all the scenes combined

Time swirling around the watch, like a time-lapse and watch remaining constant and keeps on falling and deteriorating over time and falling over time. Noises of all the scenes just coming in into the swirl and the watch falling apart over time and falling from his stand finally landing in a dead position and lying down on the base tray

Watch lying in the same position but now sad

Fallen down from its stand

Act 3

Cobwebs developed on the watch

Lands in a dump yard (dark environment)

Discovered by the bird

Who looks at it

Discovers the watch, opens it with its beak and beautiful music plays (environment lights up)
