

Survive in the space

Week 7 AN Sound Script

by Willow Chen

FIRST DRAFT
April 2022
♥ Willow Chen, April 2022
RMIT, Australia
Ph: (86) 130 7212 5335

1. INT. CAPSULE CLASS-SHIP. SPACE DAY*1

A teacher, Jonathan, stands in front of a class

JOHNATHAN

As we know, seeds are remarkable, you can freeze them, you can put them in the dark, you can...

The intercom crackles to life (from the mother spaceship behind Bowen planet).

ANNOUNCER (O.S.)

Class 07, the celebration of the 150-year Independence Day in the 3745 system is on! And you are late if you are not back in 10 minutes...

The capsule class-ship receives the signal from the mother spaceship behind Bowen planet.

Beep beep.. signal sound is interrupted.

JOHNATHAN turns around.

JOHNATHAN

(patiently)

All right, never mind, we appreciate this chance to see magic in the space, let's continue with seeds. While you need them, you bring them out and warm them up, you turn on the lights and plants will start growing..

2. EXT. SPACE. DAY*2

From a great distance we see the class-ship dwarfed by the mothership. There is no sound at all.

Depressing music fades in.

3. INT. CLASS. DAY*3

David, a student is eating loudly, chewing..

JOHNATHAN

(patiently)

Shh...turn down your munched mouse, David.

A chain of Explosion sound effects through the radio
from far to near, and signal transmission cuts out.

Students are staring through the window behind the teacher.
The teacher turns around.

There is an exploration right in the location of their mother ship. Just like a birth of a supernova.

Silence for 1 minute inside the small class-ship. Boom!!

Boom! Metal Squeak sounds, students are frozen and shocked.

Showering debris is rushing the class-ship's surface.

More bumping sounds to different parts of the class-capsule.
The capsule is wobbling.

Boom!!! A strong beating sound from a outside corner of the capsule.

Everything starts spinning, students are screaming, few water drops are floating.

Close-up shots show flying chips, tears(water drops), class stuff. Display the spinning.

JHONATHAN

(hurry)

Boys and girls, we are hit by the debris. Grab anything you can!